

CE marking

newmac specialise in helping clients meeting the requirements of the European Machinery Directive.

To sell your products into the European market it is necessary to CE mark them against the relevant European Standards, our competence and expertise will help you ensure that your products are safe to sell.

Our service includes:

- i) Technical consultancy and training to gain in house competency on New Approach Directives and compliance procedure
- ii) Machine risk assessment
- iii) Documentation review
- iv) On site inspection and working with client team to develop specific solutions.

Our professional engineers are members of the Institution of Agricultural Engineers with the status of Chartered Engineer (C.Eng) and full professional indemnity insurance to offer complete peace of mind.

About newmac

newmac is a professional risk management practice with established competent practitioners specialising in helping clients to proactively manage the health and safety of their undertakings.

Please contact us to discuss your situation further.

newmac, Killington Hall, Killington, Kirkby Lonsdale, Carnforth LA6 2HA, England

Tel: +44 (0) 845 4900 143
info@newmac.org.uk

www.newmac.org.uk

newmac